

The William C. Hubbard Law & Education Conference Endowment

The American Bar Foundation (ABF) is among the world's leading research institutes for the empirical and interdisciplinary study of law. To promote the ABF's mission of expanding knowledge and advancing justice, the Foundation has a long legacy of championing research on law and education from a variety of perspectives.

Stimulated by a generous lead investment from ABF Philanthropist Fellow, William H. Neukom, the ABF is honored to establish the William C. Hubbard Law & Education Conference Endowment to fund conferences recognizing and disseminating innovative and significant scholarship on law and education. The conferences supported by this endowment will honor William C. Hubbard's lifelong contribution to the legal profession and his enduring interest in law and education.

The ABF is delighted to recognize the University of South Carolina School of Law as a host and co-sponsor of the first conference, which will be held at its beautiful new building on the Columbia, SC campus. The theme of the first conference, law, education, and democracy, will bring together prominent scholars and practitioners to facilitate the dissemination of research and to stimulate new lines of inquiry. Because the ABF is committed to the broad proliferation of research findings, a law review or academic press will publish papers from the conference.

The Hubbard Conference will be held annually or every two years, and its location will vary depending upon partnership opportunities.

About William C. Hubbard

William C. Hubbard is the dean of the University of South Carolina School of Law. He spent his career as attorney and partner with Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP in Columbia, South Carolina where he practiced in business litigation. He is a Trustee of the University of South Carolina.
